Write a narrative describing how you feel and what is happening to their life throughout the film

I felt strange watching the film in the beginning I don't have idea about what are the theme of the film but in the middle of the video I realized that the story was the life of a person told through a mirror in this case the man in this first years of life and the last years of life going through its best moments with a wife and a son and the worst moments like when he lost his family

Do you remember what color is the little boy's toothbrush?

Yes, the color of the toothbrush is green in the beginning of the film.

What happens to the little boy's tooth?

The tooth fell into the sink and went down the drain.

Dis you like the film? Why / why not?

Yes, is a very short perspective about the life of a person and how can you go from being at the highest to falling to the lowest and most lonely.

How did the film make you feel?

I felt strange in the beginning and in the final of the history I felt a bit bad because the man die alone in your house
